

9-6-1979

College Voice Vol. 3 No. 1

Connecticut College

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.conncoll.edu/ccnews_1979_1980

Recommended Citation

Connecticut College, "College Voice Vol. 3 No. 1" (1979). 1979-1980. Paper 15.
http://digitalcommons.conncoll.edu/ccnews_1979_1980/15

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Student Newspapers at Digital Commons @ Connecticut College. It has been accepted for inclusion in 1979-1980 by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Connecticut College. For more information, please contact bpancier@conncoll.edu.

The views expressed in this paper are solely those of the author.

CONN. COLLEGE LIBRARY
SEP 10 '79
NEW HAVEN, CONN.

The College Voice

CONNECTICUT COLLEGE'S WEEKLY NEWSMAGAZINE

Renovation Updates: Roofs raised and expectations deflated

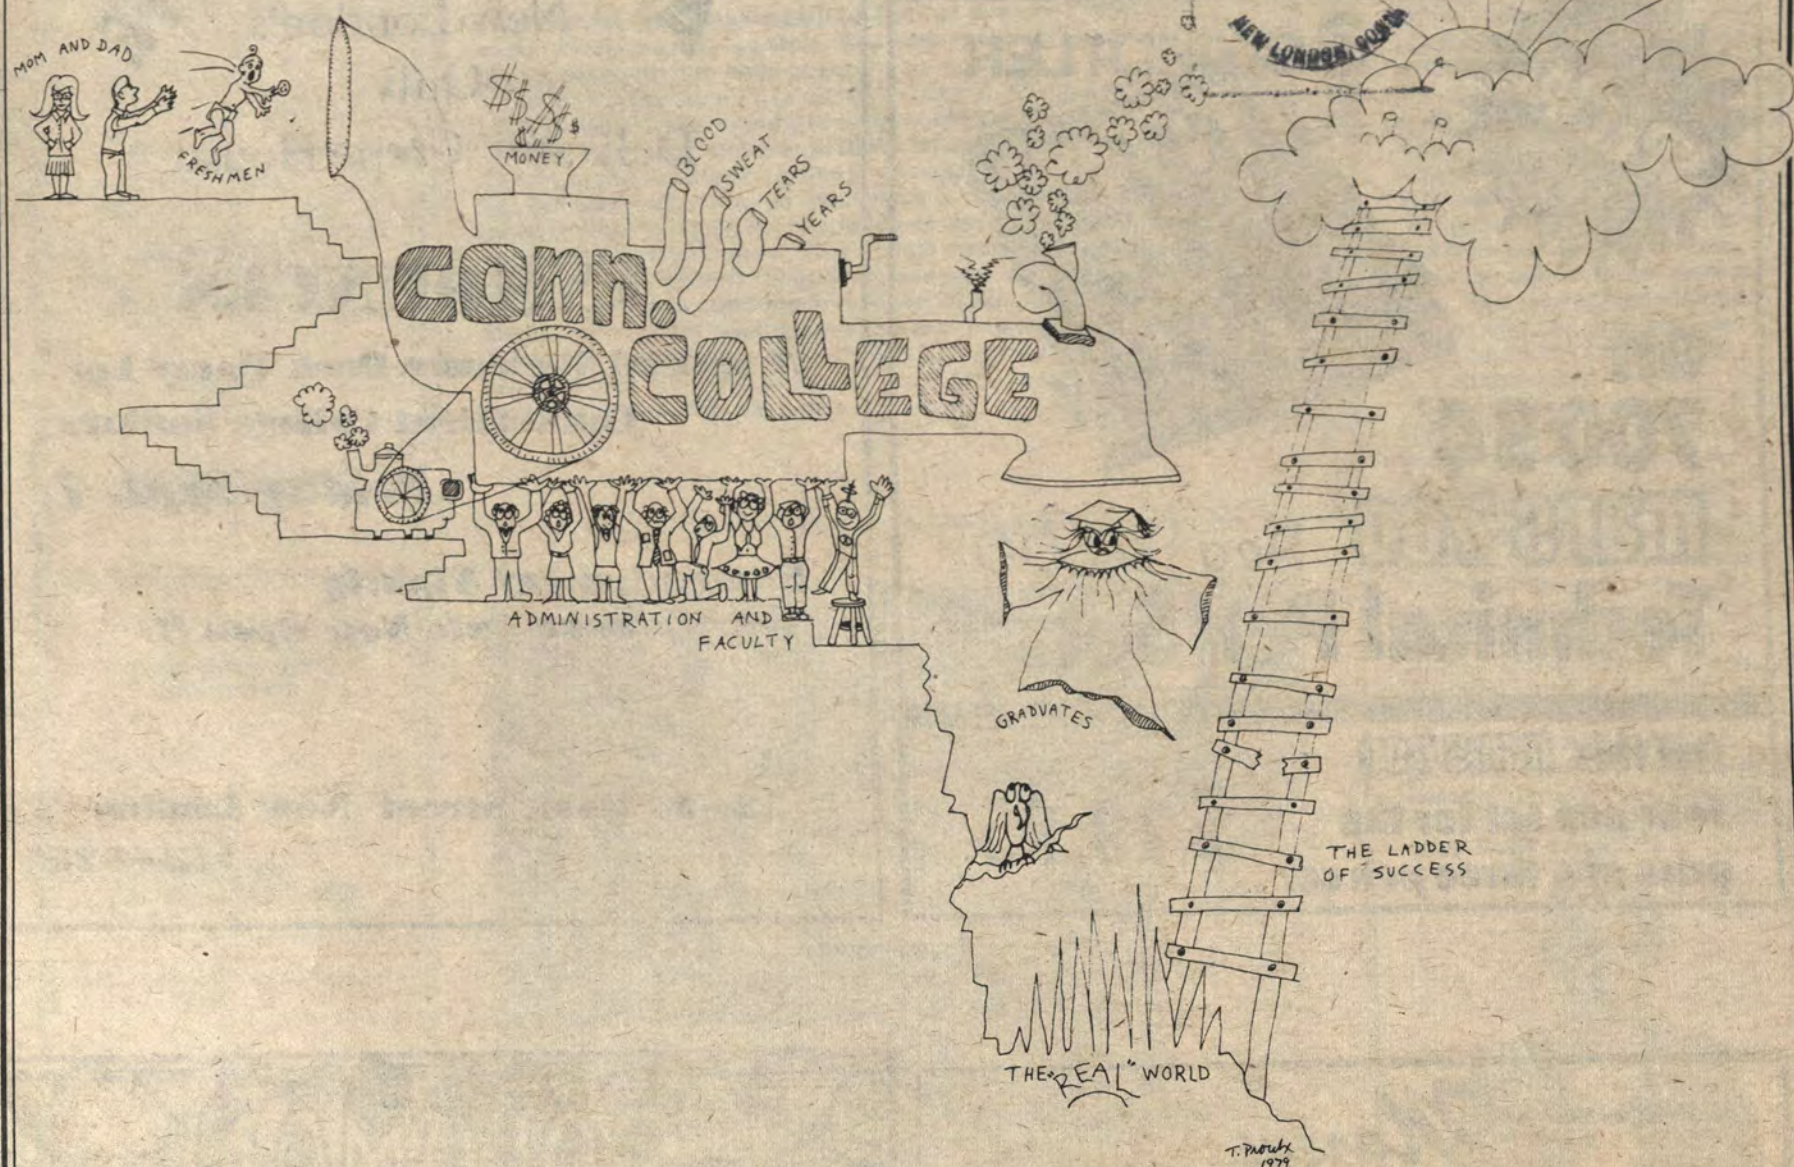

Student Health Services - cut but not maimed

Welcome Class Of '83 - 430 Strong

VOLUME III, NO. 1

SEPTEMBER 6, 1979

WHO'S IN...

Eckman — College Chaplain

Barbara Eckman has been appointed to replace David Robb, (studying this year at the Union Theological Seminary in New York) as chaplain of the college. She will teach one course this semester entitled Ethical Problems in Contemporary Society, Religious Studies 231. The course is "an historical investigation of key figures, movements, and events in American youth culture in the 1960's and popular culture in the 1970's, which form the context for ethical consideration of drug use and issues in human sexuality, homosexuality and feminism."

A 1976 graduate of Princeton University (Phi Beta Kappa, Summa Cum Laude) Ms. Eckman has received prizes for the finest senior thesis in Biblical Studies, and for the "highest academic achievement of a senior religion major." She is also the author of several published articles on religion and classics. She has been chaplain intern at Trinity College in Hartford, a classical music programmer and a programmer of Aging Awareness Workshops at Trinity.

Geiger — Residence Director

Marijane Geiger has been appointed to replace Eleanor Vorhees, retired to Maine after more than 25 years of service, as director of the college residence halls and food services. Mrs. Geiger, admittedly "new" at the job, expressed her primary concern for the coming year as "repairing all the washers and dryers." She has also planned weekly dinner meetings with Residence Chairmen to increase communication. She foresees no lowering of food standards despite the fact that ever-rising tuition costs cannot keep up with both spiralling inflation and vandalism.

Mrs. Geiger received her Bachelor of Science degree in home economics from Michigan State University and her Master of Public administration from the University of New Haven. She also holds teaching certification from Connecticut State Board of Education in vocational homemaking.

Her previous work experience includes managing the New Haven Public School food service department and teaching classes for cooks, teachers and directors of day care programs. She also served as an education service specialist in Child Nutrition Programs with the Connecticut State Department of Education.

Murphy — Former School Physician

Dr. A. Gordon Murphy, former school physician, has retired to Florida for the second, probably last, time in his career. Dr. Murphy was hired part-time as a general practitioner shortly after the school became co-ed. Soon, however, he found a large and anything but part-time following for his specialty - gynecology (and obstetrics) - in the still predominantly female population of Connecticut College. Dr. Murphy saw female patients three days a week to administer pap smears, contraceptives, and advice.

As head of gynecology and obstetrics at a large urban hospital for nearly thirty years, Dr. Murphy often said with quiet pride that "his babies" were spread "all over the East Coast." Not just a few Conn. College co-eds "owe" their births to him.

Dr. Murphy's services as a physician on call will be rendered this year by a young vascular surgeon, Dr. Antonio Toledo, who is building a practice in the New London area. He will spell Dr. McKeehan one weekend every third week.

Mrs. Gay Stanislawski, a nurse practitioner once with New London's Planned Parenthood, will continue Dr. Murphy's gynecological and contraceptive services twelve hours a week.

...WHO'S OUT

JOHN L. PRENTIS & CO.
7 GOV. WINTHROP BLVD. NEW LONDON, CONN. 06320

STAEDTLER

on 700 S4
MARS-700 Reg $30.00
Technical Pen Sets

Get this MARS-700
four pen set for the price of a three pen set $ 19.95

ANNA CHRISTIE
New London's
Only
Deli and Crepe House

ANNOUNCES

A Special Welcome Back Party For Connecticut College Seniors
Friday Sept. 7

Entertainment Nightly
New Outdoor Cafe Now Open !!

52-54 Bank Street New London
443-9255

Open Mon.-Sat.
8:30-6:30

Marcus

Friday 8:30-9:00

OVER 40,000 Pair of

Lee Levi's Wrangler

LOWEST PRICES AROUND

15-23 Bank Street New London, Conn. 443-0471

MARCUS: The Guys store that Girls adore

27 Bank St., New London, CT.
443-8461

A Million & One Items of Stationery & Office Supplies

Big savings on all your collegiate needs

BROWN DERBY LOUNGE

Presents: Rockin' RHYTHM

'n' Blues

4 miles north of Conn. Coll.
on Rt. 32

On Wednesday Sept. 12 at 9 00 pm

ROOM FULL OF BLUES

On Wednesday Sept. 26 at 9 00 pm

B. WILLIE SMITH

Also: The best rock bands in the area every Thursday through Saturday night

Work For the COLLEGE VOICE writers, editors, layout, artists, business, advertising, and circulation help all needed

come to our campus wide meeting on Wednesday September 12 in K.B. living room

The College Voice

Executive Editors
VICTORIA MCKITTRICK
LAURA MARTINEAU

Photography Editor
WENDY WEEKS

Business Manager
DAVID IVES

Art Director
ELLEN MCCAUSLAND

Production Staff
GEOFFREY DAY
WENDY WEEKS
SETH STONE
GLORIA CRAIGHEAD
JUDY DUKER
TOM PROULX

The College Voice is an editorially independent news magazine published weekly during the academic year. All copy is student-written unless specifically noted. Unsolicited material is welcome but the editor does not assume responsibility and will return only those accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope. All copy represents the opinion of the author unless stated otherwise. The College Voice is a student-run, non-profit organization.

Editorial offices are located in Room 212, Crozier-Williams Student Center. Mailing address: Box 1351, Connecticut College, New London, Ct. 06320. Phone: (203) 442-5391, Ext. 236 or 397.

Editorial

This issue of The College Voice is briefer than most you will see in the next ten weeks; twelve pages is the norm. This week we simply had too little time and news to fill more than eight pages.

Thursday is the Voice's new circulation day. It makes more sense. Now we can focus on the weekend and give previews of the coming week.

Sunday is copy day. This change should make it easier for contributors to find the time to write, and for me to find the strength to edit. I say strength because I find the quality of writing at Connecticut College consistently lacking. Last spring I tried to write an article about student writing but became too discouraged to finish. I could come up with nothing more conclusive than the evidence sitting heavily in my desk: my own papers.

We thought it was important to come out within the first week of school, not only to welcome the freshman class, but also to impress upon upperclassmen, the faculty, and the administration, that we are sensitive to the needs of the college community. Our purpose is to serve, our function is to be read. We will explore all issues with this firmly in mind.

—LGM

INSIDE OUT

HIRING RETIRING ETC...

A quick look at three people - both newly arrived and recently departed - who touch our mundane, spiritual and physical lives. p. 1

THE FRUITS OF LABOR

A review of projects last seen in the spring reveals some surprises, some disappointments as the rink ripens, Palmer lies dormant, Quad renovations flourish, and the infirmary issue still leaves a bad taste. p. 4-5

LESSONS FROM LESSIG

Soccer has captured the American eye. In this on-the-field interview, Victoria McKittrick learns the ambitions of a 'smart' team whose coach thinks it can capture as many wins as witnesses. p. 6

HERE COMES THE JUDGE

The Judiciary Board makes its case log public, Jeff Lupoff stresses the personal side of JB decision-making, and Mike Lichman takes the coming year to task. p. 6

Words From On High

By Michael Litchman

The Student Government Association is the voice and organization of the college community. SGA can be effective and its voice respected, when students are informed of the issues which affect us all, and are willing to communicate their feelings, ideas, and suggestions to representatives. If it is clear that when SGA makes a decision, it has the support of the student body then student government will be effective as a representative assembly, and influential as a student voice.

I would like to encourage as many students as possible to become involved in student government this year. House Council elections will be held in the near future, and the election of Dorm Vice-President, Class Representatives and others will be crucial in determining the policy of the SGA. Elected officials however, need not be only ones who have a direct impact on campus decision making. Individuals who are interested in a particular issue are welcome to become involved by forming committees, or by working with their House Presidents.

The House President and House Council are the keys to an effective SGA. As student government representatives, House Presidents will make Dorm meetings forums for the discussion of SGA issues. House Council members and the House President's assistants will help find out how the dorm feels on an issue, and keep dorm members up to date on what's going on.

SGA meetings are open to the public and are held on Wednesdays at 6:30 p.m. in the SGA room on the second floor of Cro. The agenda will be posted in advance so that you will know what will be discussed, and can attend if you wish. Meeting minutes will be posted on SGA bulletin boards in the dorms. A newsletter will also be published once a month to highlight both those issues which have been acted on, and those which are pending.

I will try to make myself as visible and accessible as possible, so that I always will have a good grasp of student opinion. I will hold all-campus meetings periodically and will try to attend several dorm meetings to answer questions. In this way, I hope to make SGA's business your business.

Among the issues I expect to reach the agenda are: the student organization budget allocations, the college community's response to the energy crisis, the Infirmary situation, the cramped quarters of Cro, and vandalism. If there is anything I've missed, let me know. Even now I am preparing to act on the problem of public transportation in New London by seeking to locate a public bus stop closer to the campus, so that we will be able to get around town without using cars.

Help to make student government work this year. We are here to represent you, are eager to hear from you, and have you join us. With your support, our efforts will surely succeed.

Palmer in Limbo

Waiting for renovation - Palmer Library

Plans for renovations on Palmer Library proudly displayed last spring in the new library will have to gather a little dust before they can be used to turn the old building into an administrative and humanities center. As Le Roy Knight, treasurer and business manager of the college assures us, Connecticut College exists, with or without the new center. We have survived thus far without it and the only real loss is in the height of our own expectations.

Plans for renovations on Palmer Library ... will have to gather a little dust before they can be used.

The $500,000 Dana Challenge grant for which the college must earn $1,000,000, has not yet encouraged any large donations. But, as Knight points out, fund raising is a volatile business. The money could drop in tomorrow or next month or not at all. Even after the money to receive the challenge grant has been raised, the college will still need approximately $1,000,000 to make the project viable.

UPDA

By Laura Martineau,
Victoria McKittrick
and David Ives

Rink On Schedule

The almost complete skating rink.

The long awaited and much debated Connecticut College Hockey Rink was forty percent complete on September 1, and is scheduled to be finished in early December. Students will be able to use the rink at the beginning of the spring semester, but as Athletic Director Charles Luce says, "if for some reason it gets done early, we'll be down there as soon as possible."

The rink began when the college received an $800,000 anonymous gift for the express purpose of building a rink. The college carefully considered available revenues and decided to build a 1.5 million dollar rink, much to the dismay of many members of the college community who felt that a hockey rink should not have been high on the administrations list of priorities.

Once the initial controversy died down, the college began to search for a location for the rink. Eventually the east side of Williams Street was chosen.

place, and work continues inside and out. Ground was broken last semester and construction has continued rapidly ever since. The rinks' roof is in

"... if for some reason it gets done early,
we'll be down there
as soon as possible."

The seating capacity for hockey is 550 people, but Luce stresses that the design may allow for another 1000 seats in the future. By putting chairs on the floor the rink can hold up to 3500 people for graduation and concerts. The ice surface will be a regulation 200 by 85 feet. Plans to install a basketball and tennis floor have been delayed due to high costs.

The rink is not air conditioned, and thus will see a season from October 15 through March 15. The rink will serve both the hockey club (soon to become a fullfledged intercollegiate team), and other members of the college and local community. Douglas W. Roberts, hockey coach and rink manager encourages anyone who might be interested in using the rink to see him. He is now beginning to lay out the operational schedule for ice time in the next semester.

Roberts is a graduate of Michigan State University and a former professional hockey player. His 12 years in the pros included stints with the Boston Bruins and New England Whalers. His brother is Gordie Roberts, present star of the Whalers.

ATES

Windham / Quad Renovations: Fire Safe and Feet Less

..The enforcement of strict fire regulations was responsible for drifts of fallen plaster, harmonic drilling and heated aggravation this summer. Construction delays prevented some students from moving into the Quad immediately Friday, and rendered Windham's dining room unusable until Monday, September 10. Rooms lost feet, students lost tempers, but generally the gains outweigh the losses. In the event of a fire, Windham will have two safe exit stairways. All rooms now face into the main corridors and stairwells are fully enclosed, in both Windham and the Quad.

Rooms lost feet,
students lost tempers,
but generally the gains outweigh the losses.

The housing scene on the whole is not as grim as it may have first appeared to freshmen and some underclassmen. No room lost more than three feet of space in the shifting of doors and walls. Triples are in the process of being broken up, as students who have reserved places in the college continue to withdraw.

Facelift

Future of Infirmary Uncertain: Still on Square One

Last spring the "Infirmary issue" gripped the college community in confusion. School gynecologist Dr. A. Gordon Murphy, notified in February of his release this fall, appeared to be the first fatality in a major budget swing which purported to save the college money (eventually 24 hour service and inpatient facilities were to be "phased out") while maintaining "adequate" student health services.

The student body was shocked. Neither the Student Government Association nor the student advisory board to the infirmary was consulted. They were not even told that the administration was considering student health services any more than any other branch of student services for serious budget cuts.

It is true that the nineteen bed infirmary is not fully used. We are told that eight beds can do. It is also true that major cutbacks can be made with no harm to students. Cutbacks, however, are not the issue. That alone would be easy, even justifiable. Unfortunately the "issue" is that students, without whom this institution would not be, are apparently not considered valid contributors to decisions which change their lives.

Maybe the strength of response to Dr. Murphy's release last spring was an inspiration; maybe it was just another administrative pain in the budget. Whatever it was, it was not ignored. The "Student Health Services Review Committee" was formed before the spring was out. Made up of administrators, teachers, parents, doctors, and two students — former SGA president Janice Mayer and chairman of the Student Health Advisory Board, Seth Marcus — the committee would research what the administration apparently had not: the impact and consequences of Dr. Murphy's release. Apparently the administration recognized that their action was hasty; the committee formed after that action agreed.

The decision, nonetheless, could not be reversed. The committee met only twice and all members were present but once; clearly not much could have been done. Still we return to a 24 hour infirmary, gynecological and contraceptive service, a full time doctor. We had all of that last year.

What we have lost, however, is one man whose job must now be filled by two people: an on-call doctor and a gynecologically-trained nurse practitioner. Have we saved money? We don't know. Figures have not yet been released.

We do know that we have one less full-time nurse; two nurses will run both the day-time dispensary and the 24 hour inpatient facility. Perhaps they will be enough.

We also know that 40 percent of all patients who came to the infirmary last year, came to see Dr. Murphy. Perhaps twelve hours of gynecological and contraceptive care a week will do as much this year as twenty-four hours a week did last year.

But can Dr. McKeehan do as much in the future as he has done in the past? Last year Dr. Murphy shared

The infirmary has lost some man power,
some hours;
maybe what is left is enough.

on-call responsibilities equally with Dr. McKeehan; the doctors alternated on-call weeknights and weekends between them. Dr. Toledo - the on call vascular surgeon who, with Mrs. Gay Stanislawski (gyn nurse practitioner), "replaces" Dr. Murphy — is on call only one weekend for every three weeks. That's three days out of twenty-one. Clearly Dr. McKeehan cannot do as much as he did last year; he must do more.

The infirmary has lost some man-power, some hours; maybe what is left is enough. But what remains of the student body? It has lost trust. Again. Confusion still clouds the real issue, money. We don't have enough, we have to survive, we have to change.

Do we have to lose? Certainly not. But we have to know more than we have known, and that's a change that could be a long time coming.

The committee has not yet begun to draft a long term plan for the necessary cutbacks. We can only guess that there has not been time. All that could be done — it had to be done — was a fast patching job of the premature release of Dr. Murphy. Without a comprehensive plan to follow him, Dr. Murphy's departure made a hole — no matter how readily concealed — which leaves small but irreparable cracks in the faith of students in their administration.

Warnshuis Infirmary - Future still up in the air

SPORTS

Coach Lessig Seeks To Win Through Smart Soccer

By Victoria McKittrick

"You are going to witness a lot of good soccer this season. The players are getting more intelligent, more relaxed and more creative about the game." Those were the optimistic words of coach Bill Lessig when asked to describe what we will be seeing on the soccer field this fall.

Practices are well underway. Most of the players from last year and a few selected freshmen have been training and scrimmaging together since August 24. Triple sessions are scheduled daily. Time is devoted to developing physical as well as mental expertise as Lessig seeks to teach Conn. to play smart soccer.

There is more to soccer than just kicking, running and defending a goal. Good soccer does not involve just running towards a ball. A plan is always in progress. Tactical sessions involving offensive and defensive strategies are a daily part of the workout routine. Anticipation in positioning is the key. Running into open space has been proven more effective than running constantly towards the ball. Coach Lessig says that we should see a lot of "off the ball artistry" and "unselfish positioning." Passing is essential. He wants every player to "really feel a part of the strike at the goal."

It is fortunate the team has lost only two very talented players as a result of graduation; there remains "a tremendous nucleus of experienced players" this year.

The defense will be even more aggressive this season. In the backfield will be defense captain Rocco Damiano acting as a sweeper across the goal. The other backs include powerhouses David Geller, Steven Barnard and Tom Schindler. In the midfield will be Kevin Sayward playing the defensive role by stalling the immediate attack. The other two starting midfielders are Randall Klitz and freshman Bert Czuchra. They will be more offensive by backing up the front line. A starting goalie has not yet been chosen but four men are in contention. The offensive line includes record breaker and offensive captain Jim Luce in the center and Jim Gabarra and Tommy Burke in the wing positions. Last year both Jims received Honorable Mentions on the All New England Soccer Team which selects outstanding players from all three collegiate divisions. Lessig guarantees that we will see continual improvement throughout the season. Consistently good soccer is his aim.

The first home game will be this Sunday at 1 p.m. against Holy Cross. Come let the dynamic squad of 24 show you what good soccer is supposed to look like.

J.B. LOG

Listed are the eight cases the Judiciary Board has heard since last spring

By Jeff Lupoff

Until the end of our term in May 1980, The 1979-80 Judiciary Board will publish a case log in the College Voice each month. Although the log is listed in an a,b,c, style, one should not get the idea that the Judiciary Board handles cases in an a,b,c, manner. Possible breaches of the Academic and Social Honor Codes are all handled in the same way with the thought in mind, "What decision would best serve the interests of the individuals involved and of the college community?" JB cases are anything but quick statements, decisions, and recommendations. They are frequently lengthy discussions between students who try to help each other as they decide upon possible infractions of the Honor Code.

Confidentiality is perhaps the most important factor in the Honor Code. Even those infractions which might be considered serious and influential on the student body as a whole must be dealt with in a proper fashion and can not be publicized. The most we can do is provide records — without incriminating detail — to satisfy the interest of the student body. "Confidentiality extends to the members of the Judiciary Board, the Chairman, the Judiciary Board Secretary, the respective Class Deans in academic cases, the Dean of

1.
 - a) Breach of the Academic Honor Code in the form of two counts of plagiarism.
 - b) Guilty 8-0
 - c) Censure, instruction on proper footnote procedure, given the opportunity to complete course work for full credit.

2.
 - a) Breach of the Academic Honor Code in the form of plagiarism.
 - b) Guilty 9-0
 - c) "F" in the course.

3.
 - a) Breach of the Social Honor Code in the form of abuse of dining room facilities.
 - b) Guilty 7-0
 - c) Social Probation for two semesters

4.
 - a) Breach of the Social Honor Code in the form of abuse of dining room facilities.
 - b) Guilty 7-0
 - c) Social Probation for two semesters.

5.
 - a) Breach of the Social Honor Code in the form of abuse of dining room facilities.
 - b) Guilty 7-0
 - c) Social Probation for two semesters

6.
 - a) Breach of the Social Honor Code in the form of abuse of dining room facilities.
 - b) Guilty 7-0
 - c) Social Probation for two semesters.

7.
 - a) Breach of the Social Honor Code in the form of Breach of Contract.
 - b) Guilty 6-0
 - c) Grades withheld until refund is rendered for failing to provide services.

8.
 - a) Breach of the Social Honor Code in the form of Breach of Contract.
 - b) Guilty 6-0
 - c) Grades withheld until refund is rendered for failing to provide services.

not necessarily used. Duration of social probation is left up to the discretion of the Board.

—Residential Probation: This means if a student is before the Judiciary Board for a second residential violation and found guilty, residential suspension will automatically be considered, but not necessarily used. Duration of residential probation is left up to the discretion of the Board.

—Residential Suspension: This means a student is forbidden to live on campus. However, he/she is allowed to attend classes. It is employed for students who are disruptive to the residential college life. Duration of this recommendation is left up to the discretion of the Judiciary Board.

—Suspension: This means that the student is forbidden to attend the college for a certain amount of time, which is left up to the discretion of the Judiciary Board.

—Expulsion: This means the student is expelled from the college.

Recommendations for academic breaches:

- Censure*:
- Academic Probation*:
- Given an "F" on paper-test
- Given an "F" for that course
- Suspension*:
- Expulsion*:

*See social recommendations for definitions of the above terms.

"In cases involving suspensions or expulsion the Class Dean and the Judiciary Board Advisor (Dean of Student Affairs) must be consulted before the reports are dispensed to the parties involved and before the recommendation is made to the President of the College. In the event a student is found guilty of a breach of the Social or Academic Honor Code, the Judiciary Board shall determine an appropriate course of action subject to the student's right of appeal to the President of the College."2

Should anyone have any questions, comments, or suggestions, please do not hesitate to contact any members of the Judiciary Board.

Student Affairs as the Judiciary Board's Advisor, and all parties involved in the case. Breach of confidentiality is defined as revealing anything more than the charge, verdict, and recommendation. Breach of confidentiality is a violation of the Social Honor Code."

Cases are sometimes heard together if the individuals involved committed the infraction together. But such cases will be listed in the Case Log separately, as the recommendations may differ.

Meaning of a,b,c in the Case Log:

- a) lists the breach of the Academic or Social Honor Code.
- b) indicates guilt or innocence (for-against-abstain).
- c) recommendation

recommendations for social breaches:
 --Censure: letter of warning
 --Social Probation: This means if the student is before the Judiciary Board for a second violation and found guilty; suspension or expulsion will automatically be considered, but

HODGES SQUARE

out the back gate and down the hill

Bellin's Pharmacy

SPECIAL! 10% Off Regular Prices on These Items:

Prescriptions
Cosmetics Vitamins
(with Conn. College ID)

Up to 50% Off School Supplies

Free Delivery Available 442-3303

Gordon's
Yellow
Front
WINES & LIQUORS

Let Us Help Plan Your Next Party

Save on Your Favorite Wines, Liquors, Beer, Keg Beer

Delivery Available

401 Williams Street 443-9780

CONNECTICUT SPORTING GOODS COMPANY
424 Williams St. (HODGES SQUARE) New London
TEL. 442-8364

SPECIAL BACK-TO-SCHOOL PRICES ON:

RUNNING SHOES

- BROOKS SHOES
The RT1 JOHN WALKER
Men's & Women's .. $27
- VANTAGE $27
- SUPER VILLINOVA .. $22

SOCCER SHOES

- PONY
- PELE-KING $22
- NEW MUNICH $23
- GIORGIO $23
- ARGENTINO 78 $28

FIELD HOCKEY SHOES: PONY CHAMPION $19.00

Mr. G.'s Restaurant

Complete Menu
Grinders Pizzas

Take Out Orders

Kitchen Open Daily 452 Williams St.
'til 1:00 a.m. 447-0400

The New York Times

	FALL TERM	FULL YEAR
Weekdays (Mon-Fri)	$ 9.00	$ 19.35
Weekdays (Mon-Sat)	10.65	22.80
Weekdays and Sundays	23.30	49.25
Sundays only	12.65	26.45

contact

David Waldman & David Geller
Box 1823
Connecticut College
New London, Conn. 06320

To Place An Ad In

THE COLLEGE VOICE

Call 442-5391 ex. 397

THE VOICE

will be published 11 Thursdays throughout the semester take advantage of our Conn. Coll. and CGA circulation

rates available by phone

discounts for long term advertisers

Advent/2's make the music in this system. They have the same basic tonal balance of the more expensive Advent speakers, and come within a half-octave of the best-selling New Advent Loudspeaker in frequency range. We challenge you to find a better-sounding stereo system for the price.

You also get the Technics SA-200 receiver (25 watts per channel, less than .03 THD) and top selling semi-automatic belt drive Technics SL-220. Cartridge and all necessary hook-ups included.

ROBERTS
the music people since 1934

NEW LONDON:
90 BANK ST.
442-5314
GROTON:
FASHION PLAZA
446-1277

THIS ONE IS FOR KEEPS